Seleno-Zinc Plus is a 5-in-1 essential trace mineral supplement in a chelated, liquid formula for optimal absorption and utilization by the body.

Trace minerals are essential to good health because they are used in multiple reactions in the body to ensure optimal growth and development. They contribute to enzyme function, bone formation, muscle contraction and hormone production.

More importantly, Selenium supports the production of the enzyme glutathione peroxidase, a primary antioxidant, which promotes optimal functioning of the natural immune system.

Seleno-Zinc Plus is an ideal trace mineral supplement for everyone leading an active lifestyle and those who want to boost their natural immunity to enjoy good health.

Simply dilute a single dose with 50ml of water and take daily with one of your main meals.
